Painting Architecture for Human Rights

A painting by Paul Vick is being exhibited at the 10 x 10 exhibition at the new Central St. Martin's building: The Crossing, 1 Granary Square from the 22nd November to 28th November 2013.

Each year, parts of London are divided into a grid of 10x10 for an annual exhibition in which leading artists and architects provide artwork for auction for charity Article 25. This year, the East End has been divided.

Paul Vick's After the Party shows the aftermath of the street festival in Whitecross. To see and read more about the painting go to <http://www.10x10london.com/auction/paul-vick-after-the-party/>

Article 25, the charity managing sustainable architectural projects in areas of extreme poverty or disaster, is based on UN Charter on Human Rights 25.1. everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of himself and of his family, including food, clothing, housing...

Architecture is so important we believe it to be part of human rights and so support this cause. Preliminary bids can be made on-line, and free public access will be held from 22nd November to 28th November 2013 8am to 1am at The Crossing, 1 Granary Square, N1C 4AA. Nearest stations King's Cross and St Pancras.
