We are sponsoring The Susannah Simons Interview with Rowley Leigh.

Acclaimed chef and food writer, Rowley Leigh, whose restaurants Kensington Place and Le Café Anglais have been staples of the UK food scene for the last few years is being interviewed tonight at 8pm by Susannah Simons.

Rowley's new book is called 'A Great and Messy Business' and is about seasonal cooking. We thoroughly approve of the concept. We thank him for his honest title and how the creative process can bring out the best from a messy world. Clearly, our environment becomes part of us through the food we eat. As architects, we see an architecture that influences us whether we want it to or not as it surrounds and embraces us. The question is what do we want for our architecture and environment from the messy business of life.

Please feel free to call us to discuss your ideas.
